No Inquest In Death From Police Bullet

Officer's Warning Shot Proves Fatal

By Del Harding

No inquest will be held in the death of a 29-year-old State Penitentiary parolee who was unintentionally shot early Thursday morning by a University of Nebraska policeman, according to Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrbruch.

Samuel Ernest Cawthorne of 229 No. 12th and formerly of Omaha was shot about 2:30 a.m. after he fled after being spotted prying screens off of the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority house at 420 University Terrace. NU policeman Kenneth H. Markel, 40, said he unintentionally shot Cawthorne while chasing him on foot with what was intended to be a warning shot over his head.

Markel said he had shouted at the fleeing Cawthorne to halt at least four times and fired 3 shots into the air prior to firing the fatal shot from his .38 revolver. He said Cawthorne's only answer to his orders to halt was a curse.

On Parole

Cawthorne was released on parole from the Penitentiary April 21 after serving about 3 years and 5 months of a 7-year burglary sentence from Omaha. He had a criminal record dating back to 1943.

Cawthorne was spotted at the sorority house window by Markel and his partner, officer Joseph Sharpnack, as they were driving to check on a report of a prowler at the home of Dott L. Shaw at 1826 Q. They had heard the call over their city police radio, and they often assist the city police on calls near the campus.

As they pulled up to 17th and R they saw Cawthorne, and Sharpnack got out and headed toward him on foot. Markel took the patrol car and drove down 17th and turned into University Terrace to head off the prowler's escape route.

Shouted To Halt

As Markel pulled up to the sorority house Cawthorne ran past him. Markel shouted at him to halt as they ran across the parking lot behind the Women's Residence Halls but Cawthorne kept going.

Markel said he fired 3 shots into the air as they ran across the lot. They both broke through the bushes and Cawthorne headed out onto 17th St.

Markel then fired his fourth shot which he later found had struck Cawthorne on the right side of his back just below the shoulder blade. "I thought it (the shot) would be 20 to 25 feet over his head," Markel said. He was running as he fired.

Two More Blocks

Cawthorne continued running for nearly 2 blocks, and ran into some bushes just south of 17th and Vine on the west side of the street. Markel approached and told him to come out.

"I can't, I've been hit," was the reply. Markel said he told Cawthorne to lie still and he ran back to the sorority house and told Sharpnack to phone city police and an ambulance. When they returned they found Cawthorne lying on the parking. He died a few seconds later.

Police Chief Joe Carroll said he believes Cawthorne was the man who was prowling the Shaw home and also had entered the bedroom of Mrs. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

5-Inch Rain In Hour Reported Near Elkhorn

... DAMAGING STORMS HIT MANY AREAS

Drenching cloudbursts and swooping tornadoes featured a stormy weather picture in Nebraska Thursday.

Harshest hit was the Odell-Bearcote-Tecumseh area of southeastern Nebraska. Tornadoes skipped west of Odell and southwest of Tecumseh smashing farm buildings but apparently causing no injuries.

An unofficial 5.21 inches of rain was reported near Elkhorn within an hour. But observers in town said the moisture content was nearer

U.S. Prods Russia Anew On 9 Yanks

... Soviet Intervention Demanded

Washington (AP)—The United States demanded anew Thursday that Russia intervene to free 9 American soldiers imprisoned in East Germany for the past 26 days.

A Soviet Embassy spokesman indicated, however, that Russia would refuse to get involved in the matter.

The new American protest, the second in 24 hours, was handed to Soviet Charge d' Affairs Sergei Striganov by Undersecretary of State Christian Herter Jr.

The note demanded that a Russia act under post-war agreements with the big 3 western powers to obtain the release of the soldiers who crossed the East German frontier in a helicopter last Friday.

Herter in backing up the new American demand noted that a spokesman for the 9 men told an Associated Press reporter in Dresden that East German police turned them over to Soviet Army officials after they accidentally crossed the frontier.

Striganov told newsmen he had told Herter "this question is not within the competence of the Soviet Union." He said Soviet authorities in East Germany used their good offices to establish contact between American officials and East German representatives to discuss the matter.

"The contact has been established," he said, "and so now the whole matter is up to a decision by these 2 parties."

"We believe there are all possibilities to solve this problem very quickly."

The Soviet diplomat insisted that post-war occupation agreements Russia signed with the big 3 western powers have "nothing to do

Johnson, Gage Counties Hit

Farms, Club And Church Are Destroyed

By Bill Hinel
Beatrice Bureau

Odell, Neb.—A twister which cut a 2-mile wide swath through farm areas in Gage and Johnson counties Thursday caused no known deaths or injuries but left a heavy toll of farm buildings, trees and power line damage in its wake.

As reports came in Thursday night, the path of the tornado was traced from Kansas, northeastward, dropping down west of Lanham, Neb., next hitting farms north and east of Odell, and then hitting again southwest of Tecumseh.

About 3 miles north and a mile west of Odell an American Legion club building was ripped to shreds observers reported.

The Legion hall walls and roof were completely demolished but furniture, including a juke box, still stood on the concrete floor, damaged but not moved.

Also demolished was the Maple Grove Evangelical and Reformed Church 8 miles southwest of Tecumseh.

The twister, which hit a score of farms in the Odell and Tecumseh areas, leveled every farm building except the house on the property of 84-year-old Joe Bures, 3 miles northeast of Odell.

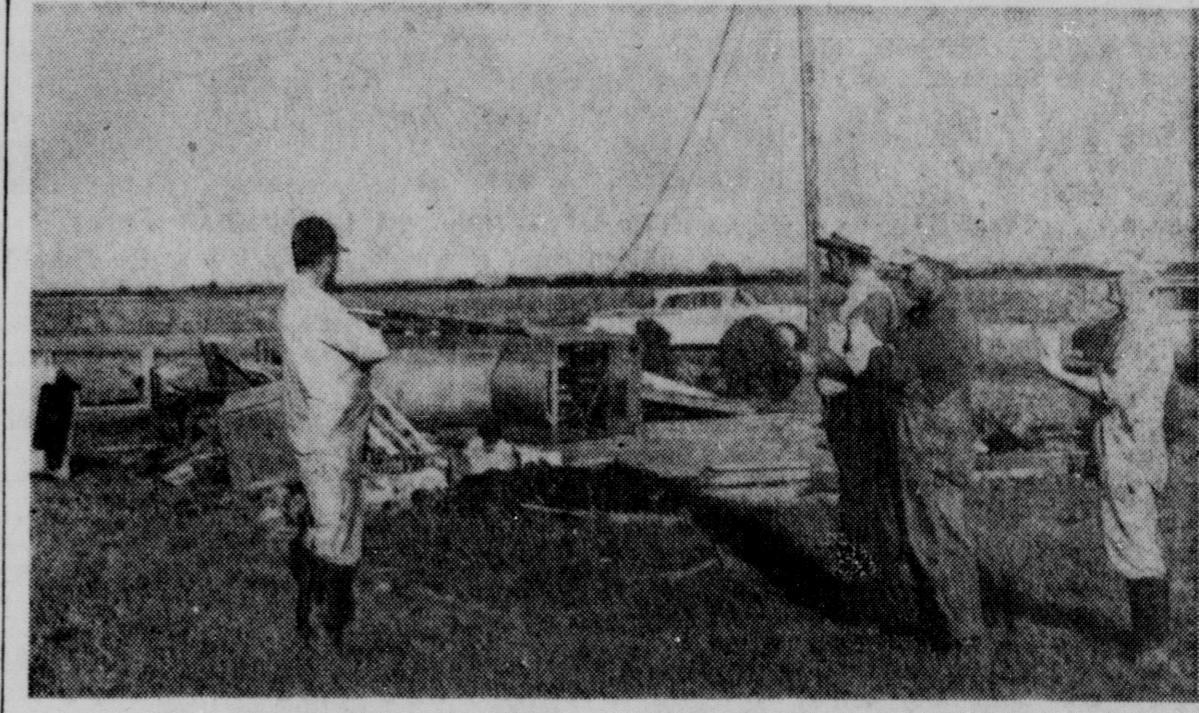

Downpour

In the Odell area the twisters were accompanied by a heavy downpour which obscured the funnel and poured down about 1 1/2 inches of rain in a few minutes.

At the Joe Bures farm, a son, Charles Bures, reported that "everything was leveled except the house" including 2 hay barns, a chicken house, and several other stock and storage outbuildings. Chickens, dazed but alive, were scattered over a wide area. The twister passed within 20 feet of the farmhouse, and flying debris tore down power lines.

The force of the twister drove a 1-inch board 6 feet long through the door of a storage building, turned over a 36-inch grain separator, and broke off a main cylinder driveshaft 2 inches thick as cleanly as if it had been sawed. A new combine sitting

Chickens Killed

At the Harold Vitosh farm, northeast of Odell, 50 chickens were killed and livestock was dazed as the tornadoes hit a barn, cattle shed, brooder house, chicken house, and other outbuildings and left farm machinery a tangled mass.

Mrs. Vitosh, her son, Mike, 16, and a hired man, Eugene Wilkinson of Wymore were uninjured as they took shelter in the farm house basement. Vitosh, and 2-year-old daughter, Leica, were away when the tornado passed.

Goldfine Money Gifts Went To White House, Congress Employes

Recipients Members Of Both Parties

Washington (P) — Bernard Goldfine testified Thursday he gave gifts of money to White House and congressional employees, Republican and Democratic.

Boston millionaire Goldfine said these were only $25 to $50 Christmas presents "to some of the poor workers who work in different offices." But a House subcommittee investigator, Francis X. McLaughlin, said he believes the biggest gift came to about $150.

The House subcommittee investigating Goldfine's affairs listed 33 persons as recipients.

One was identified, despite variance in spelling, as Eugene T. Kinney, administrative assistant to the House Democratic leader, Rep. John McCormack (Mass.). Kinney promptly said he got no cash, but some fancy foods and the like.

2 Work At White House
The White House acknowledged that 2 names on the list are of secretaries who work there—one of them assigned to Goldfine's close friend Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top assistant.

Adams himself has received four-figure hospitality and gifts from Goldfine.

White House press Secretary James C. Hagerty said both the women acknowledged receiving from Goldfine Christmas checks ranging from $35 to $75.

Hagerty said Miss Laura G. Sherman, No. 2 secretary to Adams, got $75 from Goldfine last Christmas as her only check from him. The other one named was Mrs. Helen Colle, assigned to Thomas E. Stephens, Eisenhower's appointments secretary. Hagerty said she has been receiving checks from Goldfine every year since 1950, in the Truman administration.

No Comment On Firing
Hagerty declined comment when asked (1) whether the White House approves of the acceptance of such gifts by its employees, and (2) whether the 2 women would be fired.

He said Eisenhower was told of the matter and that "he told me to give you (reporters) the facts."

The congressmen were told that the Christmastime checks, like Goldfine's gifts to Adams, were deducted as a business expense in Goldfine's tax records.

Goldfine was asked by Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.) if the payments were deducted.

The Boston businessman looked toward his bookkeeper, Miss Mildred Paperman, who whispered to him, "They were, I'm told," Goldfine then replied.

Christmas Gifts
"They were absolutely Christmas gifts," Goldfine added.

Another on the list of those Goldfine remembered was a stenographer, Mary Ryan, working for the House Commerce Committee of which the investigating group itself is a branch.

The subcommittee chairman, Rep. Orrin Harris (D-Ark.), told newsmen meanwhile that mysterious phone callers have been inquiring about him of residents in his district.

REBELS RETREAT ... IN LEBANON

Beirut, Lebanon (P) — Pro-government forces counter-attacked with an accompaniment of martial music in the hills above Beirut Thursday and recaptured Ainab village.

The anti-rebel move was mounted by 150 national police and vigilantes in the presence of 5 neutral Irishmen serving as U.N. observers.

The Irish officers happened on the battle staging area just before the counter-attack and were pinned down until it was over. They watched from behind walls.

The rebels were dislodged from southeast hill positions overlooking the capital.

A shaky truce continued in Tripoli, northern port city, where government troops surrounded between 500 and 1,000 rebels who hoisted white flags Wednesday.

U.S. High Court May Get Caril Fugate Case

... District Court Trial Order Upheld

Caril Fugate's attorney said Thursday in the wake of a State Supreme Court decision that she should be tried in District Court and not Juvenile Court that he may ask the U.S. Supreme Court to review the case of the 14-year-old companion of killer Charles Starkweather.

Attorney John McArthur said he probably would decide by the first of next week if he would seek to have the U.S. Supreme Court review the state court's action. He admitted that since interpretation of a state law is the primary issue that the chance the federal court would accept the case is not as strong as if a constitutional question were involved.

Spencer, Ronin Upheld
The state court's ruling affirmed earlier decisions of Lancaster District Judge Harry A. Spencer and Lancaster County Judge Herbert A. Ronin. McArthur had first asked Judge Ronin to transfer Caril's case to Juvenile Court, contending this is required by state law.

Judge Ronin refused and Judge Spencer backed him up when McArthur appealed the decision to District Court.

If the case is not carried to the federal courts it appears certain that Caril's trial on 2 first degree murder charges in the death of 17-year-old Robert Jensen of Bennett will be held this fall in Lancaster District Court before Judge Spencer. Hers will be the first criminal case on the docket, and probably the trial would begin in early October.

The next step in the case, however, is the holding of a preliminary hearing before Judge Ronin to determine (1) if a crime has been committed, and (2) if there is probable cause to believe Caril committed it. This step is a legal formality, and she is certain to be bound over to District Court for trial on the same murder charges on which Starkweather was convicted May 23.

This hearing is expected to be held within the next few weeks if McArthur does not take the case to the federal courts.

Starkweather, 19, is now under sentence to die in the electric chair Dec. 17.

If Caril were to be convicted in District Court of first degree murder she could also receive the death penalty upon recommendation of the jury. If her case were to be tried in Juvenile Court, however, the maximum punishment she could receive would be commitment in the Geneva Girls Training School until she is 21.

Caril is charged as Starkweather's companion on a January killing spree in Nebraska and Wyoming which claimed 10 lives. She will be 15 on July 30.

The transfer dispute centered around the wording of Nebraska law. The fundamental question was whether Judge Ronin was under a mandatory duty to transfer the complaint to Juvenile Court.

—Wheat Harvest—

Grower Squeeze Tightens

... Prices Slide

Kansas City (P) — Good harvesting weather in most areas, dwindling storage space and a heavy flow of grain to market are putting their annual squeeze on the wheat farmer.

But this season the squeeze is tighter than usual.

His average price, calculated by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, dropped this week to $1.45 a bushel, lowest since 1944. At the start of last year's crop run it was $1.75.

All At Once

There is some falling off in the price of wheat every year during harvest, but this harvest hit all at once.

"It's seldom that combining is spread out over such a wide belt at the same time," Wright Smith, U. S. D. A. grain market specialist, explained.

"The combining is going on at exceptional speed. A week ago the harvest was delayed by rain. This week is hot and dry, ideal weather. The harvest extends from the Texas panhandle to southern Nebraska, and the crop is pouring into channels on an unprecedented scale.

"The wheat is dry now," Smith said. "Concern over the rains, moisture content has dissipated. Demand is good, but buyers have a distinct trading advantage. Sellers are forced to meet their bids in order to move the wheat."

Fluctuates In K.C.

At Kansas City's grain market, price-setting center for the area, quotations on No. 1 hard winter wheat have been fluctuating between $1.71 and $1.98 per bushel. Off of that comes the standard charges for freight, commissions and handling by country elevators.

A strike of grain handlers at elevators here and a 48-hour embargo placed on shipments to Kansas City has had little, if any, effect on trading.

Thousands of carloads of wheat are being traded on sidings here and reassigned after sale to other markets without being unloaded. The strike has not affected the unloading of truck wheat.

WHITE HOUSE DENIES HOTEL BILL IGNORED

Washington (P) — The White House denied Thursday that President Eisenhower and party ran out on a Miami hotel bill during the presidential campaign.

The denial followed a publication of a story in the Tampa, Fla., Tribune saying the group ran up a $4,000 bill at Miami's Roney Plaza and left town without paying.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty disputed the Tribune's story after checking with A. B. Herrmann, executive director of the Republican National Committee.

Hagerty reported that Eisenhower and an official party of 20 to 35 spent one night at the Roney Plaza Sept. 2, 1952. He said they were billed for about $1,500, but protested that this amount contained items not chargeable to the party.

In the end, Hagerty said, the Republican National Committee paid $964.13. A National Committee aide said it received a voucher marked "Paid in Full."

Hagerty said the difference between the amount paid and the amount originally billed by the hotel reflected charges against persons who were not members of the official party.

V. M. Newton, managing editor of the Tribune, made this public reply to Hagerty:

"A senatorial investigating committee showed that a bill of more than $4,000, including flowers and food, had been run up at the Roney Plaza by the Eisenhower campaign party."

"Now Mr. Hagerty has accounted for $964.13 of it. It would be most interesting for an accounting of the remaining $3,035.87 which the hotel apparently held the bag for."

PETITIONS SEEK ELECTION OF STATE EDUCATION HEAD

By Betty Person

Amid confusion as to the number of signatures contained in them, the Nebraska School Improvement Association Thursday filed petitions for a proposed constitutional amendment in the Secretary of State's office just 4 minutes before the 5 p.m. deadline.

NSIA representatives decided they had approximately 60,000 valid signatures on their petitions seeking a constitutional amendment to change the state commissioner of education from an appointive position to an elective one.

Several NSIA representatives

but several bundles had not been sorted by counties or counted.

The group, headed by NSIA Board Member Clyde Widman of Amelia, retired to the East Senate Lounge and began sorting the petitions into counties and with the aid of 2 adding machines from the Secretary of State's office, began tallying their figures.

64,000 Names

When the petitions were officially filed just minutes short of the deadline, the sponsors said they had "about 64,000 signatures in round numbers."

It developed, however, that slightly more than 4,000 of these they knew to be invalid because the petition circulators had obtained the signatures before their bonds were properly filed.

Several NSIA representatives appeared at the Secretary of State's office about an hour before the deadline armed with boxes of petitions.

—19 Dead In Iowa—

NEW RAIN ADDS TO MISERY

Hamburg, Red Oak Strengthen Levees

Audubon (P) — New rains added Thursday to the misery in the southwestern Iowa area Wednesday swept by floods which took a toll of 19 lives.

Four additional bodies were recovered, bringing to 15 the total found. Four other persons were still missing and presumed dead.

Requirement Met

Widman said the NSIA petitions met that requirement in "at least 47 counties."

The NSIA said it had petitions from 74 of the state's 93 counties.

If the usual percentage of disqualifications of signatures for technical reasons (about 10%) holds true with the NSIA petitions, it appears unlikely they will meet the requirement of 56,794 valid signatures to place the matter on the November ballot.

Bingo Petitions OK

The Secretary of State's office Wednesday completed checking petitions for a proposed constitutional amendment legalizing bingo which finally met the legal requirements.

The percentage of improper signatures found on the bingo petitions ran to an unusually high 18%.

Civic Leaders Delighted By Salt-Wahoo Authorization

... But Appropriation Still Needed For Project

By Don Walton

Civic leaders associated with the drive for authorization of funds for Salt Creek water projects expressed delight Thursday night with the President's approval of a $1.6 billion rivers and harbors authorization bill.

But, they pointed out that this was only a "first step" toward the projects' completion and urged further local and area co-operation and coordination to fulfill their efforts.

Leaders also noted that the approved bill is only authorization and not appropriation. Appropriation measures for the work are not likely to be introduced until the next session of Congress beginning in January.

The authorization bill calls for $13,314,000 for work on Salt Creek and its tributaries.

Joint Plans

The projects stem from joint Army Corps of Engineers - Soil Conservation Service plans for the 1,655-square-mile Salt-Wahoo Watershed.

The Army Engineers phase given final authorization Thursday calls for 12 large dams and extensive channel improvement on Salt Creek through and above Lincoln.

The SCS portion of the plan involving a number of upstream dams and conservation practices on the land is well underway.

Comments on authorization approval:

Sen. Otto Liebers, chairman, Salt-Wahoo Watershed Assn.: "The authorization encourages conservation of soil and water, flood control and an opportunity to develop valuable recreational facilities. We are very happy with this milestone of progress."

"Because of the signing we face several big jobs, including getting appropriation from Congress; maintaining a high spirit of co-ordination among local, state and national agencies, the SCS and the Army Engineers; close co-operation of all affected communities and solving the urgent problem of Antelope Creek Dam."

Robert Crosby, secretary and counsel, Salt-Wahoo Watershed Assn.: "I believe the signing into law of this project for flood control is a great forward step in the 1,600 square-mile area. Over the last 25 years, flood damage averaged $1 million a year in the Salt-Wahoo Basin."

"We should not overlook the fact that the work contemplated by the Corps of Engineers is co-ordinated with work now done through the SCS."

"Much remains to be done on the Engineers' program, namely, we must get the appropriation at the next session of Congress."

Earl Luff, chairman Lincoln Chamber of Commerce flood control committee: "The approval... marks a most important milestone in the history of our city."

"It opens the way for realistic long-range planning that can minimize to the greatest possible degree the damaging flood along Antelope and Salt Creek."

"It will take time, but the completed plan will certainly reduce to a minimum a major cause of the agricultural, industrial and residential loss in this area. It will also present opportunities for recreational development so badly needed in the Lincoln area."

Mayor Bennett Martin:

"We are very pleased... this program will eliminate the danger of such disastrous floods in the Salt Creek valley as have occurred during past years in large portions of Lincoln and will result in making large areas in the valley available for very desirable industrial sites."

"The construction of the Antelope Creek portion of the program will result in substantial decrease in flood damage to Antelope Creek and will also create a large reservoir on the edge of the city which shall provide very desirable recreational facilities."

"We will ask our people who are on the Lincoln Salt-Wahoo Watershed committee to determine what action they can take to move the city's part in this complex problem forward."

First Slain At NU

Cawthorne was the first man ever fatally shot by a University policeman. The NU officers are hired to police the campus but hold commissions as city police officers.

Markel, of 125 So. 28th, joined the NU force 2 years ago in March. Sharpack, who lives at 2201 Holdrege, has been a member of the campus police staff for more than 27 years.

Cawthorne was born May 29, 1929, in Wichita Falls, Tex., but was reared in Omaha. He completed the 8th grade there. He was committed to the Kearney Boys Training School as a juvenile delinquent in 1943 when 14 years of age. He served 11 months in Kearney.

Dishonorable Discharge

In 1946 Cawthorne joined the Air Force and 3 months later was arrested for burglary. He was dishonorably discharged and served about 3 years of a 5-year prison term in Huntsville, Tex.

He was arrested in Omaha in 1952 on another burglary charge and served 9 months of a one-year State Penitentiary term.

Cawthorne again was ar-

Arrows Show Entry Attempts

The 2 arrows on the right (the south end of the house) show the first screens Cawthorne took off in an unsuccessful attempt to gain entry. He was spotted by University police as he attempted to pry open the window pointed out by the arrow at the left. He succeeded in taking all 3 screens off but did not get any of the windows themselves open. (Star Photo)

Ruby Lockwood, 59, of 2041 Vine about 12:45 a.m. The intruder, who matched Cawthorne's description, fled when Mrs. Lockwood awoke.

Screen Pried Off

A screen had been pried off to gain entrance to the Lockwood home. In addition to the screen pried off the window where Cawthorne was observed at the sorority house police found 2 other windows on the north side of the sorority had been taken off in an unsuccessful attempt to gain entry.

Nineteen-year-old Gail Christensen of Beatrice was sleeping on a couch in the sorority parlor, just inside the window where Cawthorne was spotted. She had fallen asleep after studying and was dressed in pajamas.

rested in Omaha on a burglary charge in 1954, and began a 7-year sentence Nov. 26, 1954. He was paroled April 21 of this year and his parole was not due to expire until June 10, 1959.

Dishwasher

He was not married, and had been working as a dishwasher in a local hotel since he was paroled. His survivors include his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Hoagy Jackson of Omaha, father Joseph Cawthorne of Tulsa, Okla., 2 brothers, 2 sisters and 2 step-brothers.

Chief Carroll said he also believes Cawthorne may have been the unknown intruder who pried open a screen door at the home of Mrs. Emma Fast at 1948 L on June 20, and severely beat her when she awoke and screamed.

The last man killed by a Lincoln policeman was a Texas penitentiary escapee, Aubrey Ray. He was shot April 20, 1934, by officer Frank Robbins after a high-speed chase through downtown Lincoln to Prairie Home.

A 14-year-old boy on his way home from school to lunch was killed by Ray or one of his 2 companions as they fired at Robbins and his partner, Officer Volcott Condit, at 24th and O. Ray was shot and one of his companions wounded after their car had rolled over near Prairie Home and they crawled out. They refused to heed an order to drop their guns.

Government In Private

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It was a highly informative and revealing opinion rendered by the state attorney general in connection with the question of the rights of county boards of equalization to conduct open or closed meetings. It is an opinion with which we will not disagree but, also, one to which we will not subscribe.

As a matter of fact, the opinion, while not what we had hoped for at all, is still very valuable. It should serve better than any words from us to open the eyes of the public to the shocking state of affairs that exists in government in some areas. The fact that this dangerous and shocking state is protected and clothed in the righteousness of law only makes it all the more appalling and the need for corrective action all the more compelling. It is a situation, we are sure, to which the next session of the Legislature will want to give thoughtful consideration.

The opinion states that the law does not require county boards of equalization to hold open meetings. It can be concluded from the opinion that there is no law whatsoever regulating the privacy or openness of either official or unofficial meetings of county boards of equalization.

Likewise, the opinion states that "we have been unable to find any statutes applicable to county commissioners on this subject. In the absence of any statutory requirement of public meetings of the county board of equalization the board may, in its discretion, close its proceedings to the public.

It is important that the people realize the impact of this ruling. Keep in mind that there are no qualifications to the word "proceedings." There is nothing said about official proceedings, informal proceedings or any other particular kind of proceedings.

Either the opinion is a surface discussion of the issue or it means that every single action taken by either a county board of commissioners or a county board of equalization can be taken in private. Assessments on all classes of property could be raised or lowered in complete privacy.

The county commissioners could adopt the county budget, could make contracts, could award bids and do all other business in strict privacy. It is our opinion that this is what the opinion says and exactly what it means.

The situation, frankly, is even much worse and more disturbing than we believed the case to be when it came up by virtue of a closed meeting of the Lancaster County Board of Equalization. Not just matters involving tax valuations, but all matters of county government could be legally carried on in private.

There is no tongue in cheek when we express the belief that even Lancaster County commissioners are somewhat surprised by the all-inclusiveness of the attorney general's ruling. We make no contention that the situation has been abused by the county to the extent that would seem to be possible. But we certainly maintain that such a possibility should not exist. If this ruling were ever pushed to its legal permissive limits by a governmental subdivision, the situation would be intolerable.

We grant that there are other laws governing the keeping of official records which show what governmental bodies have decided. But the reasoning behind a decision is no less important than the decision itself. We grant, too, the possibility of error in our conclusions on the attorney general's ruling. But it cannot be denied that the opinion has at least raised questions of such a serious nature that the answers should be determined as quickly as possible.

Maximum Beyond Imagination

It is somewhat of a nebulous term—patriotism—but one which every American should define again for himself this July 4. It is a holiday and a day for celebration but gaiety is not the only thing involved. The Continental Congress found little to smile about on July 4, 1776 when it adopted the Declaration of Independence.

They were serious times and were to continue as such until the war against the British was won. They were times when men struggled against tyranny and fought to lift the yoke of oppression from their backs. They were times when a few faced a great many but won out with nothing more than the sheer weight of their own convictions and determination.

"And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor."

Day Of Rededication

It is somewhat of a nebulous term—patriotism—but one which every American should define again for himself this July 4. We don't need to wear our patriotism as a badge or medal but we need to keep our heritage in mind so that we never forget what patriotism should mean. It should be down 33.

Col. Carl Sanders, chief of the State Highway Patrol, is warning that inattention at the wheel is contributing to the state's sorry tragedies and he is reminding that the liberalized speed limits may be contributing too much.

These are trite pieces of advice, but they are true and they are what we have to live by. There is not much more to be said. Very few accidents are unpreventable. Safety can be enhanced by prudence. Don't follow too closely the car ahead. Do not pass if there is any gamble at all in it. Watch the road, watch the signs and do not permit distractions. Do nothing that may create an emergency for another driver.

Still Remains

The Nebraska Supreme Court put an end to a two-year old question of whether the Chicago North Western Railway should or should not continue to operate passenger trains 13 and 14 between Omaha and Chadron.

It upended the State Railway Commission which first said the trains should be discontinued, but later reversed itself and ordered the trains to run pending new hearings at an unspecified date. The court found no substantial basis for the reversal, accepted the evidence that the railroad was losing $623 per day operating the trains, said the continued operation was practically a matter of taking property without due process of law, and reminded Nebraskans generally that the criterion for running trains is not local convenience but public necessity.

The North Western case is more than usually interesting. The Omaha to Chadron run is a long one involving 43 stops. It is a link between eastern and western Nebraska. It was one that gave an exhaustive test to community-railroad co-operation. A "Save the Trains Association" did its best to rescue the service by trying to steam up enough business to make the runs financially practicable. It sharpened a definition of public necessity by relationship to non-loss operation and narrowed the definition of convenience. Communities have long emphasized usefulness and convenience as contributory to necessity in their efforts to retain railroad service.

The North Western case clears away a good many of the unrealities connected with the changes that are taking place in transportation. If provides a new and clearer position from which to view the problem. But in the end 43 stops between Omaha and Chadron have lost passenger service and the North Western Railway is by that much less than it was. The problem itself remains, a little better outlined and if anything a little more portentous.

Summer Dangers

It was unusual enough to make the wires of the Associated Press when an Indiana fire chief received third degree burns from an incinerator fire in his back yard. But the story is more than unusual. It should serve as notice that this is the time of year for outdoor activity such as back yard fires and picnics. It should be remembered that this is also a time of year where safety habits are important in connection with fires during windy or dry spells.

It is, at the same time, a period when the youngsters are out of doors and seeking new and different things to do—things such as crawling inside of discarded stoves and refrigerators. It would be an excellent time for both homeowners and businessmen who have such equipment to see that all automatic door locks are removed. It would be a wonderful summer if no children died of suffocation inside an abandoned refrigerator.

One Of Those "Good Republican Cloth Coats" Nixon Was Talking About?

DREW PEARSON

After 182 Years Of Independence

fled the very freedoms our forefathers fought for.

Certain senators engaged in the big brag and the big witch hunt so intensively and we became so busy looking under our beds for bogeymen that we neglected the scientific advance of the bogeymen abroad.

Crisis after crisis faced us. We solved them with words, not deeds. We talked blithely about "massive retaliation" at a time when the world knew, and we should have known, that we would not blithely risk setting the world on fire with massive atomic war.

Today, as tiny, beleaguered Lebanon wants our aid, we have advised her privately but emphatically not to seek it; that we don't want to be put on the spot. In brief, we are afraid. Our bluff is being called again.

Undoubtedly we have reason to be afraid. Perhaps we should not have put forward the "Eisenhower doctrine" of aid to imperiled nations. But once a pledge is made by a great nation, that nation has to keep its word or lose its position of greatness. It was Britain's failure at Munich to keep its word to Czechoslovakia that tipped the scales of world prestige and sent Britain skidding to the category of second-class power.

We entered this struggle cocky and confident, tossing advice freely to the world, certain we could triumph with one hand tied behind our back. We were so confident that we drove scientists out of government and nullified the very freedoms our forefathers fought for.

Demos Won Big In California

WASHINGTON — Because of the big names and soaring ambitions involved at the top of the ticket, the extent of the Democratic sweep in California has not been widely noted outside of the state.

Virtually complete returns show, however, that Democrats never before seeking state-wide elective office led substantially in the voting over very well known and popular Republican incumbents.

As a result, Democrats feel that if they do not relax their efforts they will comfortably control both Houses of the state legislature for the first time in the 20th century.

Examples abound of the party appeal which gave attorney General Pat Brown his well-advertised 600,000 vote lead in the total voting for governor over Senator William F. Knowland.

Bert Bettis, a certified public accountant of San Diego, entered the race for treasurer against the wealthy and well-known A. Ronald Button, Republican incumbent and national committeeman, as a sporting proposition.

Bettis ended up with a plus of about 25,000 votes even though Button had 350,000 Democrats on his side.

Henry Lopez thought so poorly of his vote appeal he did not cross-file for secretary of state but came up with 50,000 more in the totals just on the Democratic ticket than the Republican incumbent, Frank Jordan, achieved with a bonus of 435,000 Democratic votes gained by cross-filing.

In Washington, the California Democratic tide is expected to show both in the election of Representative Clair Engle to the Senate seat vacated by Knowland and in a substantially larger house delegation. Some prophets think Democrats will take better than half of the House seats this fall.

These figures describe the uphill battle Knowland has

Chiggers—Out Where The Itch Begins

By MONA B. PARKER

It was a whole farming region speaking when Dorothy Conway wrote in the Spalding Enterprise, "You would think we'd get tired of rain, wouldn't you? But our memories are not that short. Such a little time ago this county was suffering the pangs of drought."

"Blessed be agriculture—if one does not have too much of it," someone once wrote. But Joan Glaser of the Greeley Citizen staff doesn't feel that way about it, at all. She can't get enough of gardening, even at this point with the yield exceeding the storage capacity.

"If the grasshoppers don't move in to do the canning for me, I'll have to make a search for jars."

Harold Spence, editor of the Holdrege Citizen, shudders at the creepy crawliness of worm life, and then launches into a dissertation of wonderment at the life cycle of the lowly chigger...

"These creatures which have burrowed under my epidermis and are gorging themselves on my tired blood—what happens after they become satiated and wax fat and strong? Surely they don't make their way to the surface again and step down to the cold ground and begin family life again. . . . If they starve to death quickly, where do all the little chiggers come from?"

Mr. Bernard Corder, who is caretaker of the Trenton dam, is in charge of a new car counter installed at the road leading into the dam. Within just a few weeks, nearly 1,600 cars had passed over it.

Says the Register: "If the fish at Swanson Lake keep getting bigger, there's a chance that his counter might be worn out this summer."

Orchard is not a big town, counting heads. But they do things there in a big way

Fern Rose, columnist for the York News-Times, was comparing the old and the modern, and today's ways of food preparation were suffering in the discussion. Take strawberry shortcake, for example, and who won't? . . . "Those huge rounds of rich biscuit dough, split in half and drenched in crushed berries and then heavily coated on top with berries, finally generously spread with whipped cream, and served in wedges. Today we are content to fill the inverted center of a tiny sponge cake—strawberry shortcake, 1958 version."

when they set their minds to it. The Little Leaguers and their mothers undertook a fund-raising project with the hope of outfitting perhaps nine or a dozen of the boys. Eleven days later, the campaign wound up with a fine flourish and a fish fry, and all 24 of the junior-grade swimmers were proudly clad in new uniforms, with money to spare . . .

"Only in Orchard," beamed the News, "could such a wonderful thing happen to such a wonderful bunch of boys."

The Schuyler Sun, with an eye on the national news of the moment, doesn't think either political party can look at the other with any degree of innocence. It would be an extremely rare politician that would fit the Gilbert and Sullivan lyrics, "What a particularly pure young man, this particular young man must be."

When Editor Francis Rea locates such a find, he's not going to give him to either the Demos or the Repubs— "We're going to start our own party — The Purists — just to see how long we can stay that way."

All of which seemed to have some connection with a new pet in the Wyoming neighborhood. The John Campbells there have a baby skunk they plan to keep around the house. But first they're going to see if the deodorization process really works.

Our Rights

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We have just honored our war dead of the last three wars that were fought to preserve the rights obtained by the Declaration of Independence July 4, 1776.

Since then small groups have had various legislative bills that slowly deteriorate our government from within just for the gains of a select few.

When petition rights are abused, property rights with the contemplated urban renewal are abused, and taxation is without proper representation, it is easy to see our God-given rights and our constitutional rights slowly slipping away. Who can defend their rights if the fight costs practically all they own, and since when does a person have to contest his constitutional rights every time he turns around?

Let us in Lincoln discard the theory used by these groups that all other cities and states are doing it, and set up a model city where we can be proud to say regardless of anything else that we do have our personal and property rights, for which we celebrate each July 4.

Clarification

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Regarding the recent news story on the outcome of the 1958 High School Mathematics Contest, I wish to clarify certain statements which either because of misinterpretation or because of appearing out of context lead to conclusions contrary to what the data imply.

The maximum number of points an individual could score on the examination was 150. In Nebraska, three students scored over 90 (60 per cent) as compared nationally to 77 contestants who scored over 90. This is very commendable, but unfortunately the other statistics are not so favorable.

If one considers only the group composed of the individuals each of whom made the highest score in his school, the national median score (the score exceeded by 50 per cent of the scores) for this group is 31. In Nebraska, the median score for the corresponding group is 24. It was reported that of the 1,405 contestants in Nebraska, 50 made scores higher than 31. Ten of these 50 were in one school. It should also be stated that only in 26 schools did anybody make a score higher than 31.

The sponsors, the Nebraska Sections of the Mathematical Association of America and of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, did not intend that the results of this contest should be used by them or their representatives for the purpose of criticizing either the teachers of mathematics or the secondary school program. That, nationwide, the mathematical picture seems not to be good and that, as a whole, in Nebraska the situation is not on a level with that of other areas is an inevitable conclusion one must draw from the data. However, by their enthusiastic response to the invitation to participate in this contest, the administrators of the secondary school systems and the teachers of mathematics have shown a willingness to try to determine where their schools stand and to do what they can to improve the situation.

It is our intention to sponsor the contest again in 1959, and we hope that the high schools of Nebraska participate with the same enthusiasm that they exhibited this year.

New Rates For Wheat Price Supports Listed

... Range From $1.75 To $1.95 Per Bushel

Price support rates on wheat in Nebraska counties this year will range from $1.75 to $1.95 per bushel, the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) office reported Thursday.

That's the rate at which farmers can receive government money under loan or purchase agreements on 1958 wheat grading U.S. No. 1.

The new rates are in the vicinity of 16 cents under those prevailing last year.

Senate Group Okays State, Basin Work

Washington (P) — Nebraska and Missouri Basin projects were well represented in the water projects appropriations bill approved by the Senate Appropriations committee. The House previously had approved a similar measure.

Army Engineer projects in or affecting Nebraska included:

Missouri River Agricultural levees, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, $2,500,000, the same amount voted by the House.

Missouri River channel stabilization, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, City to Omaha, $700,000. Omaha to Kansas, $1,000,000. The City to mouth $4,000,000. In all cases the House approved identical amounts.

Missouri River, Kensler Bend, Neb., to the mouth, $1,000,000, the same amount voted by the House.

Oahe Reservoir in South Dakota, $1,000,000 the same amount voted by the House.

Big Bend Reservoir in South Dakota, $600,000 compared with nothing voted by the House.

Reclamation projects in the list included these Nebraska projects:

Ainsworth Unit, $1,000,000, the same amount voted by the House; Brookville Division, Nebraska and Kansas, $1,100,000, the same amount voted by the House; The Farwell Unit, $750,000, the same amount voted by the House; The Frenchman-Cambridge Division, $1,300,000, compared with $2,300,000 voted by the House.

Hoppers Moving Into Central And Southern Areas

Grasshoppers are beginning to move out of field margins into corn fields in central and southern Nebraska, Robert E. Roselle, University of Nebraska extension entomologist, warned Thursday.

He advised farmers it is time "to push control measures to completion in field margins before severe damage occurs to nearby corn fields."

Alfalfa fields also are heavily infested in many areas and an entire cutting of hay may be lost to the hoppers if not controlled, he said.

An average of 17 hoppers per square yard will devour one ton of hay per day in 40-acre alfalfa field, Roselle noted.

Reds Threaten Walkout At Geneva

Geneva (UPI) — Western scientists drew up a detailed plan for policing nuclear test explosions while the Soviets threatened to pull out of the Geneva conference if the United States does not promise to halt nuclear tests immediately.

U.S., British, French and Canadian scientists met for nearly 4 hours at U.S. delegation headquarters to complete the plan they presumably will submit to the Russians at the conference's next scheduled meeting.

The conference is trying to work out an inspection scheme for nuclear test explosions. The West hopes to move the conference on to a basis of pure technical discussions between western and Soviet bloc scientists.

However, the Communists have resumed their campaign to pressure for immediate cessation of western nuclear tests.

Not Indefinite

The Geneva correspondent for the Italian Communist party newspaper l'Unità said in his dispatch that the Soviet delegation would not remain here indefinitely if the West continues to refuse to halt nuclear tests.

Alberto Jacoviello told other newsmen he wrote the dispatch after talking with professor Y. K. Fyodorov, chief of the Soviet delegation.

In his dispatch he charged that the "Americans are trying to continue the talks without taking a clearcut stand with the apparent intention of seizing an opportune moment to break up the talks placing the blame on the Soviet government."

In Moscow, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia charged in an editorial that the western powers were using the question of "controls" there to cover up their unwillingness to reduce armaments and discontinue A-bomb testing.

The charge was similar to those made by the Soviets when they hinted last week that they would not attend the conferences at all.

Rising Nishnabotna Plagues Iowans

Workmen with truckloads of materials lined this dike as it was built higher Wednesday to resist the rising waters of the Nishnabotna River near Hamburg, Ia. (Star Photo.)

Had To Wait

Washington (UPI) — Secretary of State Dulles, like many an air traveler, had to wait his turn at National Airport.

The secretary's military Air Transport plane, taking him to talks in Paris, was scheduled to be in the air at 7 p.m.

A pre-Fourth of July traffic jam kept the plane at the end of a runway for 40 minutes before it got clearance to leave.

Lincoln Constructionmen Join In Iowa Flood Fight

Thirty workers left Lincoln early Thursday at the request of the Army Corps of Engineers to fight the flood at Hamburg, Ia.

The men, employees of the George Cook Construction Co., left in 3 dump trucks, one flatbed truck, 3 pick-ups and 4 autos to help build a 2-foot wooden dike along the East Nishnabotna River at Hamburg.

They are to return to Lincoln early Friday if the emergency work is completed and if the flood crest passes Hamburg Thursday night as expected.

The construction company received a call for help from the Army Engineers for "emergency aid," and rushed men immediately to the area, officials said.

The trucks were loaded with lumber and other building materials for dike construction. Materials were taken to build 3,800 feet of dike, Roy Randolph, estimate engineer, said.

Randolph said the construction of a similar wooden dike above the levee had averted the flood in Omaha several years ago.

Returning home the first of the week were 20 home economists from Nebraska who attended the 49th annual meeting of the American Home Economics Association held last week at Philadelphia.

The large delegation from the state was headed by Dr. Rhea Keeler of the University of Nebraska, president of the Nebraska Home Economics Association.

Also attending from Lincoln were Mrs. Donald Walton of the Nebraska Wheat Commission; Miss Ethel Elmund of the Lincoln Public Schools; Miss Helen Becker, Miss Kathryn Cooley and Mrs. Elsie DeLunger of the State Extension Service; Miss Lorajane Baskins, Miss Marilyn Jensen, Miss Margo Franke, Miss Lois LaRue and Miss Lu Forney, home economics students at the University of Nebraska.

A highlight of the convention was a talk, "Re-assessing the Homemaker's Role Today," by Dr. William M. Smith, Jr., professor of family relationships at Pennsylvania State University, who stressed the importance of keeping family values abreast of the changing times in which we live.

Also included in the program was a private showing of sections of the Philadelphia Museum of Art; exhibits of new products and equipment for the home; and a talk, "Are Women Finished?", by Lilly Dache, world-famous fashion designer.

At the convention, Dr. Keeler was elected secretary of the presidents' and councilors' unit of the national association's executive council.

Dear Abby . . .

Give Him His Choice!
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There has been a very special cheesecake recipe in my family for generations and all my friends are wild over this cheesecake. I serve it when I have company. I am having a party soon and everyone looks forward to my cheesecake dessert except this one man, who told someone that he does not care for cheesecake. I know if he ever tried mine he would like it, but I don't want to force him. Should I disappoint all the other guests and serve a different dessert, or should I let majority rule and serve the cheesecake?

DEAR CHEESE, ETC.: Serve the cheesecake and suggest he try it. If he doesn't want to eat it — pass the fruit and nuts to him!

DEAR ABBY: We have an eleven-year-old son whom we are trying to raise up clean and decent. The people across the street are making this hard for us because they have a twelve-year-old girl who is telling our boy all the facts of life. I don't know how I can make this any plainer and still get it in the paper.

We Hear That

Word has been received in Lincoln of the birth of a son, Richard James, to Mr. and Mrs. James Collings of Minden. The baby has a young sister, Pam, and his mother is the former Pat Childs of Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Childs of Lincoln are the maternal grandparents, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Merle Collings of McCook.

SPOTLIGHT ON PARTIES

—the week end and the week to come are brimming with parties. Those for the current week end will honor guests—and next week's numerous events will pay courtesy to a late summer bride, Miss Ann Stebbins, and also to her fiance, Frank C. Sidles.

Next Tuesday begins what doubtless will be a long series of parties for Miss Stebbins who with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stebbins, returned home recently from a vacation trip which followed her graduation from Smith College on June 8.

On Tuesday Mrs. J. T. Haley, Jr., and Mrs. O. W. Hallam will honor Miss Stebbins when they entertain at a 10:30 o'clock coffee and kitchen shower. The guest list of 20 will include members of the family and also those feminine members of the bridal party who are in town at the moment.

—complimenting Miss Stebbins on Thursday, July 10, will be Mrs. Frank Shugrue and Mrs. Dewey Gruenhagen who have invited 24 guests for luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club. Following the luncheon the bride-elect will be presented with a linen shower.

—Miss Stebbins and Mr.

Sidles will share honors at the party on Saturday evening, July 12, when Mr. and Mrs. John Unthank and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seward will be hosts and hostesses.

The guests have been invited to attend an hors d'oeuvres party first at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Unthank—and then will go next door for a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Seward.

—the very next evening—Sunday, July 13, Miss Stebbins and her fiance will again be honored when Mr. and Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel entertain at a pool party and terrace supper at their home.

—and now back to the week end and courtesies for Mr. and Mrs. Myers Cather.

On Saturday evening the members of a Sewing Club to which Mrs. Cather belonged during her Lincoln residence, and their husbands will compliment the visitors when they entertain at a no-host supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kosman.

—on the Sunday morning calendar is another party for Mr. and Mrs. Cather—a coffee for which Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edgren and Mr. and Mrs. James Critchfield will be hosts and hostesses at the

Attended Convention

Attending the biennial convention of Pi Beta Phi sorority held last week at New Ocean House, Swampscott, Mass., were the Lincoln residents and former residents of the city pictured above.

Seated are Miss Karen Peterson (left) and Miss Carol McPherson, who represented the active chapter at the University of Nebraska; and standing (from the left), Mrs. Kent Morgan, Mu Province vice president and newly-elected national vice president; Mrs. Dick Wagner, president of the Lincoln Alumnae; Miss Ruth Louise Dierks, Mu province president; and Mrs. Donald Hornung, president of the Berkeley, Calif., Alumnae.

En route home, Mrs. Hornung visited in Lincoln last week end as the guest of her father, Dr. George H. Walker.

Among the 4th of July travers home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed- gren.

—hear that Miss Brenda Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John A. Brown, left a day or two ago for Colorado. The traveler will go first to Frontier Ranch, Buena Vista, where she will join her sister, Miss Jo Brown, who has been spending the past month as a member of the "work crew" at the ranch.

From Buena Vista the Brown sisters will go to Star Ranch for a week's holiday before returning home on July 12.

parents, as you probably have guessed, are Chief Justice and Mrs. Robert G. Simmons of Lincoln.

—we'll open the party book again—just for a party that has no honoree—no reason other than just a party. Anyway, Mrs. Edna Perrin entertained at dinner on Thursday evening at the University Club, and following dinner the guest eightsome spent the evening with bridge at Mrs. Perrin's home.

Into Each Life---Some Rain

As can be seen, the ladies in the gallery must have suspected that the sun over Lincoln would not smile on them during the afternoon. But, after all, it was a swimming party.

The Star In Suburbia

SOUTH HILLS

We heard that Mrs. Darrell Grell and Mrs. L. R. Harlow will be co-hostesses at the Grell home on Tuesday evening when they will entertain at a post-nursery shower honoring Mrs. Harold Gilliland. Invitations for the affair have been issued to Mrs. Elton Gibson, Mrs. C. L. Wier, Mrs. James McElvey, Mrs. Leonard Hiatt, Mrs. Charles Wiechert, Mrs. Lester Halvorsen, Mrs. Leonard Jansing, Mrs. Gordon Gell, Mrs. Richard Grell and Mrs. Axel Boisen.

Introductions are in order this ayem for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beecham who are new-comers in South Hills. Mr. and Mrs. Beecham who formerly lived at 1140 South 14 St., moved into the area on the first of June to make their home at 2362 Burnham St.

Also learned that Mr. and Mrs. Hinman drove to Lincoln last week end and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Johnson to Stromsburg on Sunday to attend a Johnson family picnic.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

To celebrate the 4th of July holiday Mr. and Mrs. Phillip

James and their daughter, Peggy, were host and hostesses to their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert George and their two daughters, Annette and Karen. The event was a picnic supper after which the two families had a fireworks display for the younger generation.

And spending the holiday week end in Hastings will be Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Blackburn and their daughter, Charlene, who left on Thursday. The Blackburns will be guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Goodrich and their children, Susan and Paul.

News of vacationers concerns Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lemon and their children, Sherrie and Dexter, who are visiting relatives in Denver, Colo., at the moment. The Lemons will return to the suburb following a ten-day holiday.

POSTCARD

In the Carmel Valley, just south of Monterey, Calif. Along side, my 14-year-old child is practicing her swimming—I don't know why for she swims like a porpoise.

She is very critical of my swimming. Also a little impatient. Because I ease into the pool with great cries of refrigerated anguish. "Just jump in! It's NOT cold once you're in."

"You raise your arms too high. Reach forward like this."

Such high-and-mighty talk I will not put up with. Where is respect for doddering age these days?

"If you insist on shouting insulting remarks at me," I said coldly—for it IS cold once you're in, I don't care what SHE says. "If you do that," I said, "I will repeat verbatim what you used to say when I took you in this very same pool when you were small. And not so long ago."

"What did I say?"

"Oh, Daddy, no! Please, Daddy! It's too deep, Daddy!"

"Father! Don't you dare!" "I will repeat it," I said firmly. "And not only that. I will repeat it loudly and within hearing of the handsome 15-year-old boy who is sitting in the deck chair."

"Father!"

There are more ways to kill a cat than stuffing it with butter.

Life has come full circle. We are staying at Los Laureles Lodge. Once this was the stable for the rich Muriel Vanderbilt. And how she got the horses to move out of such a fine establishment I will never know.

I spent my roaring teens in this less area—though in those days we came to the valley for ranch dances.

The teens of this day are learning the Charleston.

Well, bless your dear little hearts, I was practically the Charleston champion of this valley. Kicking and vaccavorting to "Yes, Sir, That's My

All of a sudden, I find myself passing on this valuable knowledge.

I am not viewed with respect. But more with curiosity.

I cannot swim so well. Nor do I dive gracefully into the pool. Without first testing it with my feet and letting out great screams.

But I am as fancy a Charleston dancer as you will find for many a pretty mile! That is more than I can say for some people.

I Charleston best after one martini—I am not as young as I was in the old days and it is medically sound for me to have a mild stimulant. At this point, I am a Charleston kid.

"One, two three, kick! Yes, sir, that's my baby. No, sir, don't mean maybe ...

"Father!"

It seems that my Charleston lessons should be given with decorum. I should be more reserved and simply show the steps. Not get into the spirit of the thing.

Well, that is like trying to stop an old fire horse from answering the fire bell. What these children do not realize is that you MUST have spirit. I always put a good deal of spirit into the Charleston. And see no reason to cease now that it has come back into its own.

"Father!" That is the voice of conscience. The voice of the conscientious teens. Slow down. Is there any gratitude for the days when I took this child in the cold, cold pool? When she was hollering, "Dad-dy!"

Any thanks for passing along the delights of the Charleston?

"No, sir, don't mean maybe ...

Weary Sarazen Has Little Chance To Win British Open

St. Anne's-On-Sea, England (P) — Leg weary, 56-year-old Gene Sarazen earned the right to play in the final 36 holes of the British Open Golf Championship Thursday with a second round of 73.

Eleven strokes behind the leader, Christy O'Connor of Ireland, with a 146 that barely qualified for the last 2 rounds, the stocky golfing squire of Germantown, N.Y., had little or no chance of doing more than just play Friday.

"I'm too tired to be playing golf, but I'll finish it out, any way," he said as he walked weary off the 18th green after taking a one-over-par 5 on the last hole.

The Royal Lytham and St. Anne's Course, rated as 1 of Britain's championship courses, took a beating Friday such as it never before had experienced.

O'Connor, a member of the 1957 Ryder Cup team and British match play champion, fired a 68 after Wednesday's 67

Par for the 6,635-yard sea-side course is 35-36-71 and it had been expected to play long after nearly a week of rain had left deep water in the low places and made the greens almost muddy.

Thomas moved into a third place tie with Peter Thomson of Australia at 136. England's Eric Lester had a 66; Harry Weetman, England, and Donald Swaelens, Belgium, had 67s and O'Connor and Dave Thomas of Wales had 68s. The scoring was so good that all players with 148 or more were dropped from the final 36 holes.

But Friday Thomson broke out in a rash on his legs and shot an uncomfortable 72, 6 strokes higher than his opening 66.

The itchy bumps were diagnosed as an allergy. If Thomson doesn't win the open, he may be able to blame it on eating too many strawberries.

Lester's 66 gave him a 5th place tie at 139 with 1951 champion Max Faulkner of England, who had 68-71. Weetman, Bernard Hunt and young Tony Coop of England and Florey Van Donick of Belgium were bracketed at 140.

The second American who qualified for the championship, Army Sgt. Monte Bradley of Hillsboro, Texas, who is on leave from his post in Germany, didn't qualify for the final 36.

Bradley shot a 78 Friday for a 154 total. "I was bunkered four times and three-putted once," he muttered.

Sarazen played some very fine golf Friday. He was putting well, chipped dead to the pin three times and once came out of a bunker within a foot of the pin. But his long game wasn't effective enough for him to gain on the leaders. He had two birdies and four bogies on his card.

"I'd have to be blind to miss a putt on this course," Gene said at one time.

The sun shone Friday for the first time this week and it brought out a crowd of 6,000. That made the total so far about 12,000—about half the usual figure.

Should O'Connor win today, which is quite possible after the near collapse of Thomson, he would give Ireland virtually a clean sweep of Britain's major championships.

Joe Carr of Dublin holds the British amateur title. Philomena Garvey of Ireland is the British ladies champion. Harry Bradshaw, another Irishman, holds the British PGA closed championship and O'Connor is match play champion.

BOUCHEE HOMERS, PHILS NUDGE BRAVES

Crowd Applauds Phillie

Milwaukee (P) — With Ed Bouchee contributing a home run in his 1st National League appearance of the season, the Philadelphia Phils defeated the Milwaukee Braves 3-1 Thursday at County Stadium, delivering to Robin Roberts the 195th victory of his great career.

Bouchee, making his first start after pleading guilty on a morals charge last February, was greeted by a momentary silence, then a polite sputter of applause when he came to the bat in the 1st. He was called out on strikes.

But in the 8th, with the score tied 1-1 and Braves rookie Carl Willey after his 3rd major league decision without a defeat, Solly Heimis led off with a home run and Bouchee followed with another.

New York Suspends 2 From Fight Game

New York (P) — Boxing judge Bert Grant and fight manager Hymie Wallman were suspended indefinitely by the New York State Athletic Commission Thursday.

The action was the result of Grant's indictment Wednesday by a New York Grand Jury on charges of accepting bribes in five bouts involving Wallman's boxers. Grant has denied the charges and is free on bail.

Julius Helfand, commission chairman, announced the double action after a special meeting. He also said the commission was preparing charges against Wallman as soon as possible to revoke his licenses as a second and manager.

Helfand said William Thomas, commission counsel, had been instructed to draw up the charges against Wallman by Monday and a date for the hearing would be set immediately.

Two referees, Al Berl and Teddy Martin, had appeared and testified fully after signing waivers of immunity. Helfand said he had been told District Attorney Frank Hogan's office had no intention of recalling either referee.

Headline Error

The Star's headline, concerning New York Boxing Judge Bert Grant, which appeared in Thursday morning's paper was unintentionally in error. Grant was not convicted for conspiracy and bribery. He was indicted and arrested and pleaded innocent at his arraignment.

Norman Larker, Dodgers 1st baseman, became the 2nd man to hit a ball over the right field barrier by swatting a 400 footer into the seats in the 4th inning.

Mantle's Homers Rip Nats

Washington (P) — Four Yankee home runs—2 of them mighty belts by Mickey Mantle—helped Whitey Ford beat Washington's Senators for the 12th straight time over a 5 year span Thursday. The score was 11-3.

For Ford, who has the best percentage among veteran major league pitchers, this was victory No. 101 in a career which has seen him lose only 36. The Senators have beaten him only 3 times in 20 decisions, and their last conquest of the lefthander occurred on September 20, 1954.

Ike Signs Water Bill; 3 Projects Here Included

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower signed $1,620,000 rivers and harbors authorization bill late Thursday and praised Congress for eliminating projects which had led him to veto 2 previous measures.

The measure includes 3 Nebraska projects totaling $16,653,000. They are: $13,314,000 for Salt Creek and tributaries; $2,125,000 for Shell Creek; and $1,214,000 for Gering and Mitchell Valleys. All are flood control projects.

The President said in a statement that the lawmakers, upon taking another look at the projects, had eliminated "practically all of the shortcomings of these earlier bills."

He said Congress had recognized "established policies governing the review and clearance of reports (by the Budget Bureau) and the responsibilities of local benefit-

The measure, sometimes described as a "pork barrel" bill, was the result of a negotiated agreement between the President and the Budget Bureau on one hand and Con-ties in sharing the costs of water resources and projects."

He referred to his criticisms that the earlier bills included projects which had not been approved by the Budget Bureau and failed to provide for sufficient local participation in certain projects.

The new law authorized 59 navigation, 14 beach erosion and 66 flood control projects and modifications costing an estimated $750 million. It also raised by $870 million the money limits on 15 approved river basin plans.

Money Bill

Such programs always are handled in 2 packages. Congress first authorizes the programs in one bill and then acts on a follow-up measure to provide the actual cash. A money bill to finance projects approved earlier now is on its way through Congress.

Eisenhower vetoed a rivers and harbors bill in 1956. The same thing happened to a similar bill passed by Congress earlier this year.

There was some discussion of trying to override the veto, but the public works committees in both houses, working with administration officials, finally worked out a bill acceptable to both sides.

Except for the relatively few projects in the bill on which work has already started, the authorization is only a preliminary step in actual construction of flood control and navigation works.

Atomic Help To Both Britain, France Promised

Washington (AP)—The United States pledged to help Britain build atomic submarines under a sweeping agreement restoring their sharing of nuclear weapons secrets.

At the same time, Secretary of State Dulles promised immediate help to France in obtaining atomic submarines which Premier de Gaulle wants to modernize the French navy.

Dulles talked over the French situation with President Eisenhower for 2 hours before flying to Paris for a round of talks with Gen. de Gaulle on a variety of problems—the Middle East, Russia and atomic.

His most pressing discussion appeared to be aimed at learning whether France is determined to push ahead alone to develop its own atomic bombs as some diplomatic reports have hinted.

The French would be expected to oppose any end to atomic testing, even with iron-clad inspection guarantees, until de Gaulle decided how to move in this field.

The British-American atomic partnership agreement, signed at the White House by Dulles, gave Britain a preferred position in obtaining U.S. atomic secrets. The two countries shared secrets during the World War II bomb development.

De Gaulle Returns

Paris (AP)—Premier de Gaulle returned to Paris by plane after a 3-day tour of Algeria.

Algiers (AP)—Premier de Gaulle wound up a military survey of this rebellion-torn area and promised increased aid for Algerians.

De Gaulle said France will pour more money into factories, farms, housing and schools in Algeria. All women will be given the right to vote, he said.

'No Loss' On Texas Company Irregularities

Policy holders in the National Bankers Life Insurance Company of Dallas, Texas, apparently will not suffer any loss as a result of alleged irregularities charged against the company by 4 states, Nebraska Insurance Director John Binning said Thursday.

Nebraska's Department of Insurance participated with the insurance departments of Texas, North Carolina and Georgia in the examination of the company which brought the alleged irregularities to light.

The Texas company, which Binning said has a "considerable amount of insurance in force in Nebraska," has been ordered by the Texas Department of Insurance to show cause why it should not be put out of business.

"Improper Investments"

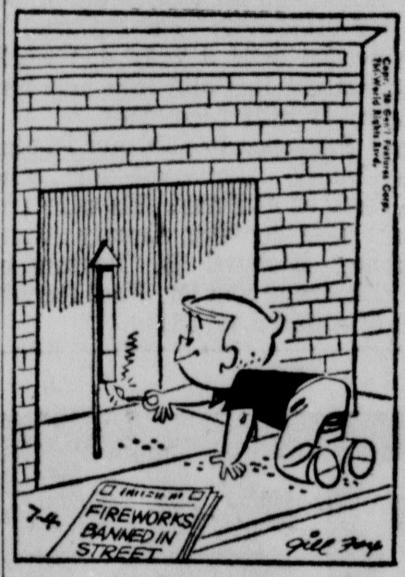

Chief among the numerous complaints against the company were the charges that it was making improper investments and doing business with subsidiary corporations owned by the officers of the company.

"From the material available," Binning said, "it appears there will be no loss suffered by policy holders due to the prompt action taken by the Texas Insurance Department and other states participating in the examination."

Binning said the association of life insurance companies of Texas has made the state-

Employment Up 5th Straight Month

Total employment during June in Lincoln moved upward for the 5th consecutive month to an estimated 56,100, according to the Nebraska Employment Security Division of the U.S. Dept. of Labor.

This is 400 above the May estimate but is below last June by some 500.

Farm employment accounted for 50 added workers during June while non-farm industries added 350 due largely to seasonal expansion in construction and government.

The separation of some 250 Elgin employees with the closing of the plant does not reflect in the June estimates since these workers are still on pay basis because of accumulated vacation time due.

The influx of a large number of students, graduates, and summer workers into the labor force increased the supply of available labor. However, unemployment increased by 100 in spite of accelerated seasonal demand.

The effect of the closing of the Elgin plant will reduce manufacturing employment in July to the lowest level since 1950. July payrolls will be more than 20% below the peak of 10,000 reached in 1953.

Employers report that 400 to 600 more construction workers will be needed during the next 60 days, although total employment will remain near present levels due to a further reduction in non-teaching workers in schools and colleges during the summer vacation.

Cal Stewart, O'Neill publisher, said he planned to confer with the association's counsel, Einar Viren of Omaha, when Viren returns from vacation.

Meanwhile, the Chicago and North Western Railway is planning to wind up service by Omaha-Chadron trains 13 and 14 this weekend.

A railroad spokesman said plans now call for the last westbound train to leave Omaha at 11:30 p.m. Saturday and the last eastbound train to leave Chadron at 2:55 p.m. Sunday. Both times are central standard.

Liquor Commission Dismisses Charges

The State Liquor Control Commission has dismissed charges filed against 3 wholesale beer distributors who allegedly sold beer to retail licensees who had delinquent licenses.

The charges were dismissed against Jessie Marie Gatz, O'Neill, and Alfred and Wilma McCollister, doing business as Valentine Beverage Co., Valentine, for lack of sufficient evidence to sustain the charges.

McClellan Proposes A Crime Commission

... Cites Challenge By Mafia

Washington (AP) — A Senate crime prober declared the Mafia and its mobsters represent an arrogant challenge to the government.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), concluding 4 days of inquiry into activities of the secret criminal syndicate, proposed that a national crime commission be created to deal with the situation.

"The contempt with which the leaders of the underworld regard both their government and the citizens of this country has been demonstrated repeatedly during the past week by their refusal to co-operate, even in the slightest degree, with this committee," the senator said.

McClellan is chairman of the special Senate Rackets Committee. The committee is engaged in a nationwide investigation of racketeers who are using labor unions and legitimate businesses to mask their illicit operations.

All Refused

Thirteen alleged mobsters were called before the committee this week and all refused to talk on the ground that they might incriminate themselves. Pleading the Fifth Amendment, they refused to answer hundreds of questions about the Mafia, their criminal records and the sources of their income.

Next Tuesday the committee will take a look at the restaurant industry in Chicago. McClellan predicted it

Minatare Hopper Situation Studied

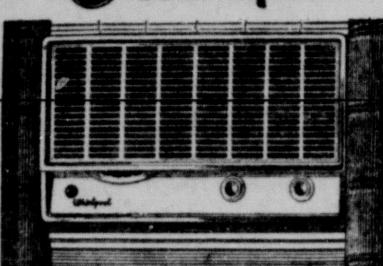

Representatives of the federal and state Departments of Agriculture left Thursday for Minatare to inspect the range-grasshopper situation. Ed Hoyt, state agricultural director, said.

Hoyt said ranchers from Morrill, Banner and Scotts Bluff counties met Wednesday to discuss the grasshopper problem and telephoned Gov. Victor Anderson for help.

Hoyt said he notified the federal people of the plea.

Earlier, ranchers in Deuel and Cheyenne counties agreed to participate in a grasshopper spraying program which would cover approximately 30,000 acres.

Neal Named State's Chief Parole Officer

Eugene E. Neal of Lincoln was named Thursday as Nebraska's chief parole officer to succeed Caryl Steyer who is resigning to become youth counselor for Dodge County.

A native of Lincoln, the 39-year-old Neal is currently personnel director for the Boomer Employment Service of Lincoln.

Neal

Gov. Victor Anderson, chairman of the Board of Pardons and Paroles, said he would call within 30 days the state's 10 new probation officers, in addition to one each from Lincoln and Omaha, and swear them and Neal into office at ceremonies at the State Capitol.

Neal was chosen from a field of 9 candidates for the $5,400 a year post.

There is no legal connection between the state's chief parole officer and the probation officers established under a law passed in the 1957 Legislature, but they will be working closely together.

Following his graduation from high school, Neal was associated with the A.D.T. Burglar and Fire Alarm Co. He was commissioned in the Lincoln Police Department at the age of 21.

He served with the police force until January, 1944 when he entered the U. S. Navy as a naval navigator.

In 1945, he returned to the Lincoln Police Department and became an assistant to Capt. Paul Shively in the traffic department.

Kearney Man Answers Bar Assn. Charges

John P. Jensen, Kearney attorney, has answered charges to succeed Caryl Steyer who is resigning to become youth counselor for Dodge County.

In a motion filed with the State Supreme Court, Jensen requested the high court to require the Bar Association's complaint to be made more "definite and certain."

The Bar Association had charged Jensen with being "guilty of unprofessional conduct and violation of the canons of ethics of the Nebraska State Bar Association."

Jensen said the charges "are indefinite and uncertain" and that he could not properly answer and defend himself against the charges as made. Specifically, the motion said Jensen was unable "to tell whether it is intended to charge that the respondent has been guilty of unprofessional conduct in that he has violated certain canons of ethics and also has been guilty of unprofessional conduct otherwise."

National Security Council. He was obviously speaking for the President as well as himself.

Dulles said there are certain aspects of the Khrushchev letter which appear to be unacceptable but he added:

"On first reading the note does seem to contain some promise that we might do in the area of inspection against surprise attack something comparable to what we are now doing at Geneva in studying the technical problems that would be involved if there were an agreement to have a supervised suspension of (nuclear weapons) testing."

Dulles described the Khrushchev proposal as a response to a suggestion made by Eisenhower in a letter to the Soviet Premier earlier this year. Eisenhower had advocated expert studies of technical problems in the disarmament field, saying that success in agreeing on how the problems could be solved should help solve them.

The first fruit of Eisenhower's initiative, Dulles said, is the meeting of scientists which opened at Geneva, Switzerland, Tuesday to discuss means of devising an international inspection system capable of policing any future agreement to halt the testing of nuclear weapons.

In Moscow Thursday, Khrushchev proposed that the United States and the Soviet Union take the initiative in calling a conference of military and civilian specialists in the near future to tackle problems involved in preventing a surprise attack by one nation upon another.

Measurements

Chicago (UPI)—The shapeless young lady walked into the Illinois Secretary of State's office, approached license plate clerk Lou Mitchell and asked:

"Could I have license plate number 342,432?"

"Why?" asked Mitchell.

"My measurements," the young lady smiled. "34-24-32."

Mitchell said she got the plates, but he kept her name a secret.
